To Whom It May Concern:

As a new Nothing Bundt Cakes franchisee, the prospect of building our bakery seemed daunting, so the right contractor was crucial for us.

Now that our construction is complete we are so very happy we chose Tommy Dacus with SE Construction Resource. His wealth of experience and fantastic subcontractors helped make the build-out as smooth as possible. Not only was he knowledgeable, but he was someone we quickly grew to trust. His accessibility, his attention to detail, and his open communication were so appreciated and facilitated an overall great experience.

Without a doubt, it was worth paying just a little extra to have someone with integrity, who was there for us after the job was complete to answer questions, and to give guidance even after we opened for business. With all the stress of opening a new business, it was great to know that our construction was in such capable hands.

I am always skeptical to make a recommendation because of the sense of the responsibility that comes with it, but in this case I can say with complete confidence that I would use Tommy Dacus and SE Construction Resource again, and would without reservation recommend them to anyone looking for an excellent, hassle-free, on-time experience.
